would want to stand up here on this floor and say that this body is bad. Boy, we do things bad and we have got to have a set of rules so we are not going to be bad anymore. Well, who again is to judge? Let the voters judge. So I will say by separating these, let's just vote them all out, I will stand the heat or pressure if I get into any when I get home. If I can't defend myself on my actions, that's my problem. That's not anybody else's problem but mine. And I'm up for reelection so I will stand for reelection and say, yes, I opposed them and tell them why and if they want to boot me out because I oppose this code of ethics...oh, can I come in my pajamas, Mr. Speaker? Or can I wear my swimming shorts?

PRESIDENT: No.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Well, but it says here you could wear anything you want to. I mean, can I wear one of those...if I lose 30 pounds, one of those real V-belts, you know, when you go like this to show all of your muscles? Well, let's go all the way and let's take Ernie's T-shirts away from him.

PRESIDENT: One minute.

SENATOR HABERMAN: So if we are going to play games with the thing which is, obviously, being done, and, Ernie, you have some nice looking T-shirts, they are usually clean so don't take any offense to that. So I am going to oppose them all, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much.

PRESIDENT: Senator Vickers.

SENATOR VICKERS: Question.

PRESIDENT: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. The question is, shall the debate cease? All those in favor say aye. The question is, shall the debate cease? Have you all voted? Have you all voted? The Clerk will record the vote.

CLERK: 9 ayes, 15 nays to cease debate, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: The motion fails. The Chair recognizes Senator Vickers. Excuse me, Senator Nichol. Senator Nichol and then Senator Higgins.
