

everywhere it appears in this bill. I know this monstrosity by heart. If you look in line 15, Senator Hoagland, where are you? Oh, Senator Hoagland. Oh, this is delightful. I have a sense of humor. Can you see how charming I am when I want to be? Everybody is laughing with me when the other day they laughed at me. What they ought to do to make their amendment correct is look on page 2 in line 15 and strike the words "or techniques". If they want to get it every time it is in the bill, they have got to get it again because it is still here. Three lawyers reading with a microscope and they missed it. But anyway I feel in a good expansive mood this morning so I want to help them. In line 15 you ought to strike the words "or techniques" and after the word "practice" you should insert the word "or". I think that is what you want to do. Employ such training, practice, strike the comma or instruction, then strike "or techniques". And I stand ready to be corrected if I am wrong. Senator DeCamp, may I ask you a question?

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator DeCamp, should those...

SENATOR DECAMP: If the question is good.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...should those words be stricken from line 15, the words "or techniques"?

SENATOR DECAMP: That was an amendment I put up there a long time ago, yes, before I ever talked to Senator Chizek or the others. They have now agreed to that amendment.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But the amendment that we are dealing with does not strike those words from line 15. And I want to know if you want to strike it everywhere or if maybe this was more clever than I thought.

SENATOR DECAMP: No, I want to strike it everywhere.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, then line 15, would you be amenable to an amendment to your amendment?

SENATOR DECAMP: I'm always amenable, you know that, I'm the easiest one in here to get along with.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And me too, on occasion. So,
