SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp. Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: I call the question.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Well, Senator Chambers, you may close on your motion if you...the question is the adoption of the Chambers amendment. All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Have you all voted, please? We are voting on the adoption of the Chambers amendment. Please vote if you care to. Record, Mr. Clerk, please.

CLERK: 25 ayes, 0 nays, Mr. President, on adoption of Senator Chambers' amendment.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The motion is adopted. We are back on the bill.

CLERK: I have nothing further on the bill, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Chambers, do you wish to speak on the bill?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Chairman and members of the Legislature, I have told people that I am a grandfather but some of the people don't believe it because I don't look like a grandfather should look. So I am going to say that I am putting on these spectacles to impart the appearance of a grandfather. But I also have something to read and on occasions I have attempted when the light was right to read items but the words would run together and some people thought I was losing my ability to read or that I couldn't control my faculties. So to make sure that doesn't happen, I have something here to deal with. It is a letter from a woman named Wannah Lee Jinks from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma and this is the maternal grandmother of the grandchild whom the Pelikans are creating a tennis match with. And the reason I am going to read it is because the Pelikans have already brought the child's name into newspaper columns and into television editorials or programs. And the first letter was written to my good friend, Senator Johnson, Lowell Johnson. She mentions that she has lived in Oklahoma but she had lived, owning property in Fremont, Nebraska, from March 1973 through August, 1982. "But most important, I am the maternal grandmother of the dear little innocent girl
