SENATOR CHRONISTER: Yes, thank you. Thank you, Mr. President. Correct, this bill was killed last week but I just can't bring myself to believe that the patient is completely dead or put out of the way. Can you imagine what a problem we would have on our hands if there were not any private colleges? Then we would really have a job. These private institutions are doing us a favor by providing higher education to a lot of students. Let me repeat that these students try to pay most of the cost of education themselves. Remember, 46 other states provide independent college students with help and remember that independent institutions in Nebraska generate about $13 million in tax revenue for the Nebraska governments each year. It has been made mention that the federal government is pulling out on helping in the education funding of our students. Why, of course, federal taxes were reduced several years ago with the idea that states would increase their taxes to take up the slack and fund the programs that the states themselves decided needed funding. I will make this a brief closing. And while we were content to be limited to the amount of $250,000, the Sports Illustrated bathing suit issue, Senator Warner wants to bring this down to a Playboy status. Now, really, I think that is very improper. I would ask you to support this amendment.

SENATOR HANNIBAL: Senator Chronister was closing on his amendment and the amendment is now before you. All those in favor will vote aye, opposed vote nay. Please vote if you care to.
