

that I am boring you because I am very bored with the coalition we have in this Legislature. Well we will have women concerned about little babies falling out of a seat and work for years to see that those little babies are protected from falling out of a car seat, but because there is a coalition of attorneys that help them with their bills, then they will change their mind about children. I just wonder what kind of a magazine a certain female senator just put down, if it was pornographic or what? Senator Marsh, when you want to talk, put your light on. I'm sure you've got it on now anyway. At any point, Senators, if you want to contradict yourself, if you want to go with Senator Chambers' bill or amendment, do what Chambers always does, make it easy on the criminal. You know very well, if he could get a bill passed that would say open the gates of the state penitentiary and let everybody out...

SENATOR LANDIS: One minute.

SENATOR HIGGINS: ...he'd introduce it. Well, he'd keep the correctional guards in, but have you ever known Senator Chambers to be for any kind of a penalty for anything? I mean, he talks one way, but we all know how he votes, and right now he is trying to convince you that he is trying to make a bad bill better and what he is trying to do is take the one decent thing we did last year and amend it and take away what protection is provided. And I don't know what kind of boys you know that you don't think, that you think are just innocent when you talk about the sexually explicit things that are described in the original act. I wish the rest of you could have seen the pictures that the Omaha Police Department brought down. Then maybe you would be shocked into your senses.

SENATOR LANDIS: That's your five minutes, Senator Higgins.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you for your undivided, boring look all throughout. Or were you just acting?

SENATOR LANDIS: Senator Hoagland.

SENATOR HOAGLAND: Question.

SENATOR LANDIS: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. All those in favor of ceasing debate vote aye, those opposed vote no. The Clerk will record.
