

go on with the bill.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Remmers, did you wish to speak to the...? All right. Senator Haberman, did you wish to speak to the DeCamp amendment?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Yes, Mr. President, I would just like to point out to this body that possibly Senator DeCamp is up to his style at this time of the year. Now, what is Senator DeCamp's style at this time of the year? Confuse, get the body confused, get them so they don't know which way they are going. Are they pulling? Are they pushing? Are they coming or are they leaving? And when he does this, and he does it very effectively, he will slip the "mickey" to you. That's right. And that is what he is trying to do, he is trying to say, this amendment and that amendment don't do this, it doesn't do that, and he is trying and he is very good. I wish I was as good at that as Senator DeCamp is because I admire him doing this. And I don't criticize him a bit. But what I am telling you is, don't accept this amendment because it is not really bad, it's terrible. And Senator DeCamp is a great one to take an old apple and it might have a worm in it but he will polish that apple, he will caress that apple and pretty soon you can't even find the hole where the worm went in. So what I am saying is be careful of what he is saying. He will confuse you, he will...oh, he's great, he really is great. John, I'm proud of you for doing this, I really am. But don't buy this amendment because it is not correct. He is trying to confuse you on turf. He is trying to confuse you on a lot of issues. So this is a bad amendment, no, I said it's a rotten amendment. The apple has got the hole and the worm is hidden so please vote no on his amendment to his amendment or whatever he is trying to do. Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, would you like to close on your amendment?

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes, yes. I would like to ask a question of my good friend, Senator Haberman.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Would you respond, Senator Haberman, please?

SENATOR DECAMP: Aw, come on, come on, Rex. Okay, as I understand it, and you correct me if I am wrong, you oppose my amendment because it is bad but what, you support the committee amendment. Against me, huh?
