

spirit, when you come right down to it, which determines whether great things or insignificant things are to be done, which things will catch people's attention and make them feel like giving their lives to accomplishing. But if you have people whose range of vision is not higher than a corn plant, then you are going to find them dealing with keeping worms out of the roots and that is the extent of it. You will have them producing more corn than they can ever sell because they don't understand things. Ignorance is what has produced the problems in agriculture. They tell them, be efficient. And to a person who is not wise, efficiency in planting means to get every single plant out of the ground that you can. But to somebody with a smattering of education, you add a bit of refinement. Don't get so much out of the ground that you have...

SENATOR BEUTLER: Time is up.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...a greater supply than the demand.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: Question.

SENATOR BEUTLER: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. The question is, shall debate cease? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Please record your vote so we can move along. Please vote. Record, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: 25 ayes, 1 nay to cease debate, Mr. President.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Debate has ceased. Senator Warner.

SENATOR WARNER: Mr. President, I move adoption of the amendment as explained.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Okay, Section 36. The motion before you is the adoption of Section 36 of the committee amendments dealing with the state colleges' Board of Trustee. All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Please vote. Anybody else care to vote? Record, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: 27 ayes, 1 nay on adoption of that portion of the committee amendments, Mr. President.