

know whether I'd rather do it the other way.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, though, may I ask you a question?

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes, sir.

SPEAKER NICHOL: You are objecting only to Senator Hefner's amendment, not to the bill as a whole?

SENATOR DECAMP: No, actually I'm saying Senator Hefner's amendment is acceptable. I'm going to vote for it. I think it cures the defect in the bill. At the same time I'm saying the defect is here by the standards laid down by the Attorney General. The defect is here and it is before us and we've been debating a bill with that in it, and, therefore, we shouldn't even be debating the bill.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, I have your point. Since Senator Vard Johnson is not here, Chairman of the Revenue Committee, I'll rule on it at this time. I'll rule that Senator Hefner's amendment is in order and should you wish to bring that up later, you may as far as the bill in its entirety. However, since the bill was one prescribed by the Governor, I would think that would be difficult, Senator DeCamp, even though you would like to have it thrown out.

SENATOR DECAMP: Mr. President, the fact that a bill is put forward by the Governor or his agents doesn't mean it complies with his...

SPEAKER NICHOL: Let it...okay. I was just arguing with him. I guess our argument is over.

SENATOR DECAMP: Then I would raise another point of order, Senator Landis, since you want to play points of order. I didn't object to the amendment. That is what the ruling was on. That wasn't what my objection was to. Maybe you forgot. My objection was to even considering the bill. You see what I'm saying? As long as the...not the amendment itself.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Well, Senator DeCamp, why don't you wait until we are through with the Hefner amendment, then bring up your objection. What is the matter with that?
