planned to stay quite so late. Tomorrow, please, let's plan on staying a little later so that we can accomplish things. I have a goal in mind. I don't know if it is possible or not, so that we'd be ready to wind things up a week from Thursday. I don't know if that is possible or not. It is up to us, of course. But let's try to do that. Tomorrow I might draw your attention to something that you might like to know and that is that the child support collection bill was put out of committee this afternoon and we are taking it up first thing in the morning, so I request that you be here on time so that we can start handling this important bill. Of course the agenda is out in the hallway, I believe, so that you can have a look at it. We should press on so that we can accomplish things. I do appreciate your attention and your work today. We have accomplished a great deal and I do appreciate it. Thank you. Good night.
