

SENATOR DECAMP: Hoagland? Then he must be here. The Vice-Chairman.

PRESIDENT: The Vice-Chairman of the committee is being requested to answer.

SENATOR DECAMP: I'll ask the Vice-Chairman, since I assume the Vice-Chairman at least of the committee must be involved in this pretty intimately. Okay, let me describe what I see as "the problem" and ask you what in this legislation is there to correct this particular problem?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator DeCamp, why did you say you wanted to address the question...

SENATOR DECAMP: No, no, no, I have got to describe the problem first. Huh?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, why did you say you say you wanted to address the question to me? I may not be able to answer it. That's what I was going to...

SENATOR DECAMP: Senator, this is the Judiciary problem, Judiciary bill. The Chairman, I have been trying to find for months.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: If Senator DeCamp...

SENATOR DECAMP: And so I thought I would talk to the Vice-Chairman.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So I won't waste your time. I have felt from the beginning this is trash legislation. I have done all I could to hinder it, to defeat it. It is Senator Hoagland and his cohorts' baby, so they are going to have to respond to that. I really can't answer the question, so I won't play the game of pretending I have answers when I don't.

SENATOR DECAMP: I think you might have to this question. At least listen.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I will listen.

SENATOR DECAMP: Senator Beutler might be able to answer it
