

adjourn and let's just put a screeching halt to this until we actually have the new bill and this body actually decides what they want to do, because, personally, I cannot vote to advance a bill that I have been told that we don't want, we are waiting for another one, and it is just mass confusion except maybe in the minds of one or two who think maybe they know what they are doing but they are not quite sure but they are going to have another bill just in place if what they are doing now isn't right. I mean, so the whole thing is so ridiculous. Now I would like to ask somebody to move to adjourn and let's wait and start when we are fresh in the morning. Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: We have some special guests under the north balcony. They are here on the tribute to Women of the YMCA. Sarah Weddington, the Director of the Texas Office of State, Federal Relations. Sarah, would you please stand up so we can see who you are. Sandy, Sandy Scofield, would you and your guests stand aside so we can see Sarah, please. Sarah, did I say YMCA? I meant YWCA and I apologize for it. Sarah, we are glad to have you with us. Thank you. We also have with us Jean Jeffrey and Karen Tallman who are Co-chairs of the YWCA Tribute to Women. Would you ladies please stand up. Jane Meyer, who is the 1985 Tribute to Women Award recipient. Jane, would you stand up, please. Okay and we also have Sydney Mosburg and Margie Rine. Would you stand up, please. Thank you, ladies, for visiting this afternoon. Senator Vard Johnson. Okay, our Clerk needs to make an announcement first, Senator Vard Johnson.

CLERK: Excuse me, Senator. Mr. President, Senator Vickers would like to remind the Education Committee they have got a hearing in 2102 at four o'clock on interim study. Education in 2102 at four o'clock. That is offered by Senator Vickers.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, Senator Vard. We are discussing the Warner amendment to the bill, of course.

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislature, it is somewhat easy to become confused when we do have an original call and an amended call and a bill that was filed under the original call and a bill that the Governor has asked Senator Warner and myself to file, which we have done under the amended call and it is a little difficult to know which way to turn. What Senator Warner
