

SENATOR CARSTEN: We will pass over those then until he comes. Do you have anything more?

CLERK: Yes, sir. The next amendment I have, Mr. President, is by Senator Sieck.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Senator Sieck.

SENATOR SIECK: I would like to pass over it, if I could, because one of my amendments deal with one of Chambers' amendments. I would like to visit with him first.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Okay.

CLERK: Mr. President, the next amendment I have is back to Senator Scofield's.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Senator Scofield, are you ready to take up your amendment?

CLERK: Senator, this is your handwritten amendment. I'm sorry.

SENATOR SCOFIELD: (Microphone not activated) that one. I have three others filed and I will withdraw that one and run the one that comes later.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Okay, it is withdrawn.

CLERK: Mr. President, I'm back to Senator Lynch's amendment on page 33 of the Journal.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Senator Lynch, are you ready for your amendment?

SENATOR LYNCH: Mr. Chairman, I'm not really, but I think we better take one somewhere along the way.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Okay, you may proceed.

SENATOR LYNCH: I apologize to the body. I didn't pass out a document. I'm not sure and I don't believe probably it will be successful. I talked to Senator Warner about this this morning before I proceeded so he would have some understanding of it as well. What it simply does, it reconsiders the budget proposal as it involves the Sieck amendment, the reductions, and the
