Obviously, you understand there are a variety of different extension regions in the State of Nebraska.

SENATOR HALL: Is Concord a new issue?

SENATOR MOORE: No...is it a new issue?

SENATOR HALL: Right, have they...

SENATOR MOORE: Is there something at Concord now?

SENATOR HALL: Right.

SENATOR MOORE: Yes.

SENATOR HALL: They've been...so they've been doing...

SENATOR MOORE: They both are doing this pro...they both are doing this now.

SENATOR HALL: Right, I knew the North Platte operation was going on, but I don't...I just overlooked the Concord before. So this is just, what? I mean what is...what do the dollars represent in terms of capital construction at these facilities?

SENATOR MOORE: Well I would...I could answer that, but actually, if you wanted to ask Senator Bernard-Stevens, I bet he'd give you a more exact answer.

SENATOR HALL: Yeah, but I prefer your answers.

SENATOR MOORE: Prefer my answer, well...

SENATOR HALL: No, that's fine, I'll...

SENATOR MOORE: I need to brief...

SENATOR HALL: Senator Bernard-Stevens came running out here, pizza in hand, and he's going to answer, which is fine. I just was curious what the...I guess the question would be, Senator, (a) what do the dollars represent; and then what's the reason for two of them? Are there different types of swine in different parts of the state, or...I mean I'm just curious. I come from Omaha. I would...if Senator Bernard-Stevens would respond.
