

SENATOR HALL: The pitcher.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Now, all that chewing and spitting, is that...would you want the children to learn how to do that? Is that good?

SENATOR HALL: Well, we have another bill that deals with that on the floor. The...many of the players are moving to bubble gum alone, Senator Chambers, so it's not really a tobacco issue.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Do you think hygiene is a good thing for us to try to encourage our children to strive for?

SENATOR HALL: Yes, I do.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: When people scratch all the time, is that an indication that they're not practicing good rules of hygiene?

SENATOR HALL: No, usually it means that the insect repellent isn't working.

SENATOR WARNER: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Have you observed this person that you called the thrower, scratching along with his spitting?

SENATOR HALL: Yes, that happens on occasion.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Do you have any contact with people who advise these individuals?

SENATOR HALL: No, I do not.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Could you have some contact with that person or those persons?

SENATOR HALL: Oh, I don't know why anybody couldn't. I think you probably could as well.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Do you think they'd stop scratching if I told them to?

SENATOR HALL: Not if the urge was there, I doubt that they would.
