LB 6
LR 1

measures of 829 are still intact.

SENATOR HALL: That's correct.

SENATOR MOORE: So what would be your intentions of doing with that money, if I may ask the question.

SENATOR HALL: Well, it's my belief, as it is others, that whether there is a constitutional amendment that passes or fails, we'll be back here to deal with it one way or the other. And, at that point in time, we would, I guess, first we'd figure out which one we had to deal with, and then we would...it would be my intention, if the constitutional amendment failed, then we would strike the funding side of LB 829.

SENATOR MOORE: That would be your, at that point in time, you think if, indeed, those exemptions...in essence if those exemptions are repealed, you probably should strike the funding...

SENATOR HALL: Oh, absolutely.

SENATOR MOORE: ...revenue raising.

SENATOR HALL: Absolutely, yeah, I don't want to double collect...

SENATOR MOORE: Okay.

SENATOR HALL: ...so you can spend more.

SENATOR MOORE: (Laugh.) Refunds are a concern to me.

SENATOR HALL: Yeah, they are to me, too.

SENATOR MOORE: I think it would be nice, but...

SENATOR HALL: It would be necessary to do it before the end of the year, clearly.

SENATOR MOORE: (Laugh.) Yes. Okay, well, with that in mind, obviously, this issue, and this is one of those things where it...obviously, we're talking about LB 6 now, but certainly it's entwined with LR 1. And, obviously, last week, the latter part of the week, and even Monday morning there was certainly some
