LB 750 amends Nebraska Revised Statutes Section 77-1371 regarding comparable sales.

The bill provides that in determining the value of a farm home site the sale of residential land located in a platted and zoned residential subdivision is not a comparable sale.

A farm home site is defined in Section 77-1359 (3) and means not more than one acre of land contiguous to a farm site which includes an inhabitable residence and improvements used for residential purposes, and such improvements include utility connections, water, and sewer systems, and improved access to a public road.

LB 750 would limit comparable sales information in these cases to sales of farm home sites without the accompanying acreage. However, according to the Department of Revenue, it is not clear whether this will cause a substantially different valuation for rural residential property. This would prevent a county assessor from modeling the value of rural residential land in part on the value of the sale of parcels in a platted and zoned residential subdivision elsewhere in the county. Some rural counties use the site value developed from the rural residential model to value the farm home sites.

The bill has no fiscal impact to the state and the Department of Revenue indicates no implementation costs.

IMPACT TO POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS:

The Nebraska Association of County Officials indicates they are unable to determine the fiscal impact to counties until they observe what impact the bill has on assessment practices.

2012

LB 750 amends Neb. Rev. Stat. § 77-1371 to specifically deem residential land located within a platted and zoned residential subdivision as not comparable to land that is part of a farm home site. This would prevent a county assessor from modeling the value of rural residential land in part on the value of the sale of parcels in a platted and zoned residential subdivision elsewhere in the county. Some rural counties use the site value developed from the rural residential model to value the farm home sites.

LB 750 would limit comparable sales information in these cases to sales of farm home sites without the accompanying acreage. However, it is not clear whether this will cause a substantially different valuation for rural residential property.

The bill as drafted would not have an impact on state revenues, and would not result in any implementation costs for the Department.
