people and if the instrumentalities that they use to control the water situation do not please them ten years down the line they can adjust it. Finally it was suggested that this is a tool for land use control. It is not land use control. It is water use control. Now we all recognize that it has an effect on land use just as limiting withdrawal of water has effects on land use but at the same time not to act, not to act at all, is equally land use control because you will simply dictate that the use of the land will be for the developer who is putting the land into grain crops. That is the land use control that you will dictate by not acting. If you act, then you don't dictate anything. You say to the people in the local community, decide the issues yourself, resolve the differences, determine where your benefits are and where your detriments are and make the best of it in your own local community. In conclusion, I was distressed to hear that many of us who would be voting on this issue have no interest whatsoever in the issue. Time and time again in this Legislature the agricultural interests have pointed out to us and rightfully so, that the cities of this state and the city folk of this state depend in the end on agriculture. To suggest to us today that we should take no interest in agriculture is a contradiction of the grossest type and I don't think anybody believes in that. As the old beer commercial goes, "We're all in this together."
